Jerash lies on a plain surrounded by hilly wooded areas and fertile basins. Conquered by General Pompey in 63 BC, it came under Roman rule and was one of the ten great Roman cities, the Decapolis League. The city's golden age came under Roman rule, during which time it was known as Gerasa, and the site is now generally acknowledged to be one of the best preserved Roman provincial towns in the world. Jerash reveals a fine example of the grand, formal provincial Roman urbanism that is found throughout the Middle East. You will visit comprising paved and colonnaded streets known as the Cardo, soaring hilltop temples, temples of Zues and Artemis, a Nymphaeum, handsome theatres, churches, spacious public squares and plazas, baths, fountains and city walls pierced by towers and gates. Continue to have lunch at a restaurant located in Madaba. Then drive to the lonely reminder of former Crusader glory “Shobak Castle”, less than an hour north of Petra. Once called “Mont Real”, Shobak dates from the same turbulent period as Kerak. It is perched on the side of a mountain, with a grand sweep of fruit trees below. The castle's exterior is impressive, with a forbidding gate and encircling triple wall. Despite the precautions of its builder, the fortress fell to Saladin only 75 years after it was raised. towering cliffs. Down a distance, emerges the towering Treasury building with its ornate decoration, rising over 140 feet.
